

1 Day Classroom Course

Manchester, Leeds & Liverpool

£299 + VAT per delegate

Overview

A one-day training course providing an introduction into what leadership is. Delegates attending will gain an understanding of the difference between leadership and management, the different styles of leadership and what makes a strong leader enabling delegates to enhance their leadership behaviour.

What the course will cover

- The difference between being a leader and a manager
- Different leadership styles
- Leadership qualities/skills and potential
- Factors that influence the choice of leadership style or behaviour in workplace situations

Recoup the cost of your training when you purchase one of our coaching packages

What you will learn

- Develop a greater understanding of the differences between leadership and management
- Understand how the different leadership styles are likely to have a positive or negatives effect on individual and group behaviour
- Understand how to assess their leadership style
- Understanding how to choose an appropriate leadership style for a given
- Be able to describe proper actions to enhance their leadership behaviour

Discount for multiple delegates*

Who should attend

Delphinium's Understanding Leadership course is ideal for:

- New and aspiring managers
- Managers who already have some management responsibilities but no or little formal training
- Managers who wish to develop as a leader

What's included

- Course handbook
- Lunch and refreshments
- Certificate of achievement

BOOK NOW!

To reserve you place complete our booking form or call 0161 949 9736

* Book 5 or more delegates on the same course and receive a 20% discount.

 Recoup the cost of one training day per delegate when you also purchase a coaching package for the same delegate.